We are deeply appreciative of the time spent reviewing, and the resulting suggestions, for the paper on the rivers and glaciers of Nepal. We are particularly grateful for the attention Dr. Hanisch has brought to this task, given his busy schedule related to the landslides and GLOF of the Hindu Kush-Himalaya mountains, and for sharing his experience in developing useable solutions to complex geotechnical problems in this complex physical environment. We will make every effort to ensure that his suggestions are incorporated in a final version of the paper.
