

Interactive comment on “Surface mass budget and meltwater discharge from the Kangerlussuaq sector of the Greenland ice sheet during record-warm year 2010” by D. van As et al.

S. H. Mernild

mernild@lanl.gov

Received and published: 31 October 2011

As important it is for this paper to go through the review process before publication, as important is it for the observed data, used for validation of this study. Especially because the used observed runoff data at the Kangerlussuaq drainage basin outlet (Hasholt et al. 2011), are related with great uncertainties. Using acceptor or published runoff data will absolute make the paper much more strong, in my opinion.

Interactive comment on The Cryosphere Discuss., 5, 2319, 2011.