I would like to express my thanks to the reviewers who did a very thorough job on the paper and have made a number of important suggestions for improving the paper. The paper is well written and the authors present some interesting data from this well studied glacier in Greenland. However, both reviewers conclude that the paper is far from ready for publication in The Cryosphere. They both point out several important critical points that requires more than a major revision. I will therefore like to end the review process and recommend that the paper stays in TCD, but will not be published in TC. I think the authors should read carefully the advices given by the reviewers and consider reworking the paper for future publication and resubmission.
