We would like to thank the anonymous referee #3 for critical input and detailed comments. We have read the reviewer's recommendations and given the opportunity we will amend the manuscript to take them in account.

We understand that we have been over-interpreting our dataset by discussing a potential interannual variability and furthermore understand that the use of "mode" to compare the snapshot observation could be misleading. We also appreciate the remarks regarding our discussion on the upwelling/plume structure and will take them into account in any revision. We thank this reviewer for detailed and constructive com-
