

Dear Editor,

You commented about the paper tc-2019-41: "However, I could not find a data statement (for further advice see https://www.the-cryosphere.net/about/data_policy.html)- Please state in your manuscript where the data of the experiment are available, apologize if it is hidden in the text."

In the paragraph "Data Availability" l.29, p.13 (lines corresponding to the revised manuscript), it is mentioned that "The datasets analysed during the current study are available from the corresponding author on request." Is that not sufficient as a data statement or you just missed this sentence?

Best regards,

Pascal
