

Review on “Satellite altimetry detection of ice shelf-influenced fast ice” by Gemma M. Brett et al.

I appreciate the comprehensive work of the authors addressing the expectations of all reviewer comments. I do therefore see an essential improvement of the manuscript, especially regarding the clarification of the objectives and the subsequent discussion of the gained knowledge. Thus, the manuscript is from my perspective ready for publication.