

Figure 1 - 6. Micrographs showing examples of the insoluble particulate matter preserved in ice layers from the Jurassic ice core (JUR). The red rectangle highlights the presence of diatoms and diatom fragments partly obscured by inorganic insoluble particles. Scale bar in bottom right represents 50 microns.

