

Dear Editor,

We would like to thank you for accepting our manuscript and for your support throughout the review process.

As wrote to the Editorial office, I tested the figures, and mainly the first one on the mentioned site. As far as the current colours are concerned, except for the strongest deficiencies (mono chroma), the figures are still readable. I think it is really good to be able to give everyone the opportunity to read the figures and that is why I had corrected the use of colours to improve the reading in my first submission. However, I don't think I could revise the figures any further as the use of colours would be too limited.

Best regards,
C. Kittel on behalf of all co-authors